The sales force can be both a rich source of market intelligence and a key vehicle for implementing marketing strategy historically in many organisations, the sales function organisations, the sales function operated in tactical isolation from marketing strategy increasingly companies are exploring the advantages of integrating sales with marketing an approach which has been positively linked with improvements in business performance this study explores a specific aspect of the connection between sales and marketing integration and better performance.

Sales strategy marketing strategy sugar industry consumer industry.

achieves corporate objective in order to generate economic value and keep the firm ahead of its competitors.

D.K. Pane et al (2005) examined various process and economics of refined sugar production followed by the Indian sugar industry and also made an attempt to explain the efficient manner By-products utilization. The concluding remark was if the By-products of the industry were utilized properly the sugar production cost could be reduced.

MBLEROP THE FO TMENTEATS

Small business owners who are concerned about their sales and marketing capabilities could begin to see improvement by breaking down the term "sales and marketing" into discrete manageable elements you end up with a checklist that can be reviewed in order to prioritize areas needing improvement a checklist that will serve as the ground work for an effective marketing strategy.

Sampling Method

Sampling is the selection of some part of an aggregate to totality on the basis of which a judgment about the aggregate or totality is made. Convenient sampling was used in this project.

Methodology

(Michael Baker 2008) It is the modus operandi that allows an organization to concentrate its limited resources on the best available opportunities to increase sales and achieve a sustainable competitive advantage.

(Movado 2000) says that marketing strategy has been a salient focus of academic inquiry.

(Li et al 2000) says that there are numerous definitions of marketing strategy in the literature and such definitions reflect different perspectives.

(Orville and Walker 2008; Theodosia, Lemonades, 2003; Kotler, Armstrong, 2009) says that a traditional definition of marketing strategy is a plan for pursuing the firm's objectives or how the company is going to obtain its marketing goals with a specific market segment.

Brodrechtova (2008) explains that marketing strategy is a roadmap of how a firm assigns its resource and relates to its environment and
